

Counting

When I count objects, I am learning to ...

- say the numbers once and in the correct order
- touch or include each object once as I say the number
- use the last number I say to tell 'how many' are in the whole collection
- count a collection from any starting point
- count the objects in any order
- trust the count even if a collection is rearranged

